PUT UNDER ARREST.

U. S. Deputy Marshals Placed in Jail by Police.

DEPUTIES DE BOST AND GRAY

Taken Into Custody and Refused Bail. De Bost Says There is Politics in It.

[From the Wichita Eagle.] Leon De Bost, chief deputy United States marshal under Dr. Neeley, and James Gray, another deputy, were thrown into the city jail last night by Officers Woods and Sutton. The charges against them is "drunk and disorderly." The arrest of these two gentlemen caused considerable of a sensation, particularly that of Mr. De Bost, who is, in the absence of Dr. Neeley, the chief officer attached to the United States court now in session here. The fact also that they were conveyed to the city prison in what is known as the hoodlum wagon, was somewhat of a sensation, and it attracted a crowd of about 300 people around the Manhattan hotel. Mr. De Host is a resident of Topeks while Mr. Gray is a resident of Leavenworth. Up to a late hour the police would not accept bail.

Leon D. De Bost made the following statement when seen in the city jail:
"James D. Gray and myself were in front of the Manbattan hotel this even-ing, attending strictly to our own business, when Harry Sutton came and told us we would have to get off the street. We respectfully requested him to attend to his own business. He (Sutton) called to Hedford Woods and and was made by W. K. Anderson, disseked him to call the hoodlum trict chief of the United States detectives, wagon. The wagon arrived in a short time and we were thrown into this leged murderer is Bert Dobson, and he is dirty pen, without any provocation or violation of law. We offered to give bonds, but nothing would do but we must be placed in this place. There may be politics in the case, but there is surely no seuse whatever.

"We were not drunk nor disorderly and I am unable to understand why we were treated so. After we were placed ing. He identified Dobson as the man sity or some college, and in order to he wanted. "It is simply a case of two drunks. Puring the evening we had frequently heard them yelling and swearing on the streets. They were in the front of the Manhattan hotel when I stepped up to them and said they were too full to be on the streets, and they would have to go in or I would lock them up. De Bost told me to go to hades and applied a vile epithet. I told him that I was his friend and he should know better than abuse me for attempting to do my duty. He then began a string of abuse, while Gray chimed in. I called Bedford Wood and he ordered the hoodlum wagen and the arrest was made. After coming here nothing but abuse and profaulty could be heard from them. We pisced them in the female portion of the general lockup intending to let them sales. They immediately began raising the furniture. particular ____, smashing the furniture, and finally set fire to the bedding. Gray was carrying on the worst, and resisted that's a fact our efforts in putting out the fire. We were finally compelled to knock him dawn and place him in a cell. De Bost says it is a political scheme, but I want to say I am as good a Republican as either of them. Go down stairs and see for yourself."

The reporter visited the lower region where he found the floor covered with water and blood, while the atmosphere was filled with smoke. Mr. De Bost came to the door and gave his side of and did not appear to be in an intoxicat-His face was flushed but his statements were given in a straight manner.

RECORDS IN COURT.

All That Remains of the United States Savings Bank Is Court Property. All that is needed at the office of the clerk of the district court to have a successful bank in operation is a safe full of money. The rost is all there, including a dozen big ledgers, many seals and When Major William Sims, who has been receiver of the United States savings bank since it falled three years ago, was discharged by Judge Hazon last Saturday, the only thing left for him to do as an officer of the court, was to turn all that remains of the bank into the court. The records were therefore hauled to the court house in an express wagon and unloaded in Mr. Gardenhire's office. There are nearly enough of them to fill a small freight car, and they will be filed away in one of the big safes. Receiver Sims filed his final report with the court several days ago, which showed that his services as receiver were no longer needed. For the quarter ending September 4, receipts amounted to $16,794.48. The disbursements for the same period were the same as the receipts, of which $14,246 went to $tebbins & Evans as the trustees for the creditors, and $1,282.75 went to S. M. Gardenhire for costs in litigation. Since Major Sims was appointed receiver on September 20, 1891, the sum of $78,760.55 has passed through his hands. has passed through his hands.
